Canada Post Strike: Christmas Benefit Update

Mail and parcel delivery services remain disrupted due to the Canada Post strike. No new items are being accepted, and some post offices are closed. Canada Post has warned that the closure of its facilities will affect the national network, potentially delaying mail processing and delivery even after regular operations resume. As a precaution, we will temporarily hold mail-out cheques until we receive confirmation that regular mail services have been fully restored.

To ensure timely access to your funds, we recommend the following options:

- Authorize a trusted family member to pick up your cheque and deposit it on your behalf by providing the necessary banking information.
- Arrange for a courier service to collect and deliver your cheque. Please note that courier services would be at your own expense.

These measures aim to minimize the inconvenience caused by postal disruptions and ensure that your benefits reach you as soon as possible.

Has your address changed recently? Please make sure to update us at reception@katzie.ca or Jamie@katzie.ca so you don't miss out on any important information, distributions, or mailings.
