Viruses Still Active in 2025: Know the Differences

As of Summer 2025, illnesses like Flu, COVID-19, Norovirus, and Strep Throat are circulating, each with unique symptoms, transmission methods, and durations. Here's how to identify and differentiate them.

Virus	Influenza (Flu)	COVID-19	Norovirus (Stomach Flu)	Strep Throat
Symptoms	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • High fever • Severe fatigue • Persistent dry cough • Muscle and body aches • Sore throat • Headache • Chills 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • “Razor blade throat” (sharp sore throat) • Cough • Fever/chills • Fatigue • Loss of taste/smell • Headache • Congestion • Shortness of breath 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Sudden vomiting • Diarrhea • Stomach cramps • Nausea • Low-grade fever • Body aches 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Severe sore throat • Painful swallowing • Fever • Swollen lymph nodes • Red spots on the roof of the mouth • No cough
Transmission	Airborne droplets, close contact	Airborne and surface contact	Contaminated food/water, surfaces, and person-to-person	Respiratory droplets
Onset	Sudden	Gradual or sudden	Very sudden (12–48 hrs after exposure)	Rapid
Duration	5–10 days (fatigue may linger)	7–14 days (longer if complications arise)	1–3 days	3–7 days (with antibiotics)
Note			Note: Hand sanitizer is NOT effective—use soap and water.

For medication needs or to book a phone appointment with a doctor, contact Katzie Pharmacy at 604-457-1030 or email KatziePharmacy@gmail.com

To prevent illness: Stay home when sick, Wash hands frequently, especially for norovirus, Test for COVID-19 or strep if symptoms arise, Keep vaccinations up to date to reduce flu and COVID-19 severity.

Take extra precautions for children and the elderly, and promote a healthy lifestyle with proper nutrition and exercise to boost immunity. Regularly disinfecting surfaces can further reduce transmission risks, benefiting both personal and community health.

Warning Signs Of

DEHYDRATION

YOU SHOULDN'T IGNORE!

- Increased Thirst
- Fatigue, Confusion, or anger
- Dry Eyes or Blurred Vision
- Heads or Disorientation
- Muscle Cramps
- Lack of Sweats
- Dark Urine
- Fever

HEAT EXHAUSTION

- Faint or dizzy
- Excessive sweating
- Cool, pale, clammy skin
- Nausea or vomiting
- Rapid, weak pulse
- Muscle cramps

What to do?

- Get to a cooler, air conditioned place
- Drink water if fully conscious
- Take a cool shower or use cold compresses

HEAT STROKE

- Throbbing headache
- No sweating
- Body temperature above 103^of
- Red, hot, dry skin
- Nausea or vomiting
- Rapid, strong pulse
- May lose consciousness

What to do?

- CALL 9-1-1
- Take immediate action to cool that person until help arrives

HEAT SAFETY

Everyone is at risk of heat-related illness

Symptoms include dizziness, faintness, nausea, vomiting, headache, rapid breathing/heartbeat, dry mouth and sticky saliva

Take extra care for yourself and others during a heat wave:

Slow down and avoid activity during the hottest part of the day

- Protect yourself outside with SPF 30 or higher sunscreen, loose-fitting, light-coloured clothes and a wide-brimmed hat

Drink water BEFORE you're thirsty

- Avoid sugary drinks and coffee, they can dehydrate you
- Eat watery fruit and vegetables like watermelon or cucumber
- Add fruit juice to water to make it fun for kids

Close blinds and windows

- Cover windows with tin foil or cardboard to block the sun
- If you have air conditioning use it to keep at least one room cool, or place a tray of ice in front of a fan to create a cool breeze
- Plan meals you don't need an oven to cook

Check in on friends, family and Elders

- Are they comfortable and drinking enough water?
- Some medications or illnesses need special attention in heat. Talk to a healthcare provider to see if extra caution is needed
- Symptoms of heat illness in children include sleepiness, or temper tantrums, so keep an eye on their behavior

Make sure pets are safe

- Avoid walking dogs during the hottest time of day, and make sure all pets have access to shade and water. DO NOT leave a pet in your car for any amount of time

See signs of heat illness? Move to a cooler place and drink water immediately. Call 8-1-1 for free health information.

If someone is unconscious, confused, or has stopped sweating, call 9-1-1

Sunburn Care

If you've been sunburned, you'll notice the symptoms within a few hours of being in the sun too long. The affected skin will be painful, inflamed and hot to the touch. Blisters might develop. You may also have headache, fever or nausea.

When to seek emergency help

Seek immediate medical care if you are sunburned and have:

- A fever over 103 F (39.4 C) with vomiting.
- Confusion.
- An infection.
- Dehydration.
- Cold skin, dizziness or faintness.

Treatment

First aid for sunburn includes the following:

- Take a pain reliever. Use a nonprescription pain reliever as soon as possible after getting too much sun. Examples are ibuprofen (Advil, Motrin IB, others) and acetaminophen (Tylenol, others). Or try a gel pain reliever that you rub on the skin.
- Cool the skin. Apply to the affected skin a clean towel dampened with cool tap water. Or take a cool bath. Add about 2 ounces (60 grams) of baking soda to the tub. Cool the skin for about 10 minutes several times a day.
- Apply a moisturizer, lotion or gel. An aloe vera lotion or gel or calamine lotion can be soothing. Try cooling the product in the refrigerator before applying. Avoid products with alcohol.
- Drink extra water for a day. This helps prevent dehydration.
- Leave blisters alone. An intact blister can help the skin heal. If a blister does break, trim off the dead skin with a clean, small scissors. Gently clean the area with mild soap and water. Then apply an antibiotic ointment to the wound and cover it with a nonstick bandage.
- Protect yourself from the sun. While your skin heals from the sunburn, stay out of the sun or use other sun-protection measures.
- Apply a soothing medicated cream. For mild to moderate sunburn, apply nonprescription 1% hydrocortisone cream to the affected area three times a day for three days. Try cooling the product in the refrigerator before applying.
- Treat sunburned eyes. Apply a clean towel dampened with cool tap water. Don't wear contacts until your eye symptoms have gone away. Don't rub your eyes.

When to call your doctor

Seek medical care for large blisters or those that form on the face, hands or genitals. Also seek medical help if you have worsening pain, headache, confusion, nausea, fever, chills, eye pain or vision changes, or signs of infection. Signs of infection are blisters with swelling, pus or streaks.

Keeping Kids safe from the Summer Heat:

Nine easy tips

Apply sunscreen early & often

Look for sunscreen that is "broad spectrum, protecting from UVA and UVB rays. Opt for at least SPF 15, and be sure to apply 30 minutes before going outside and then every two hours when in the sun.

Keep new babies out of the sun

Babies under 6 months get hot quickly AND can't wear sunscreen. so keep them inside or in the shade. Dress them in lightweight pants and long-sleeves if possible for even more protection.

Protect their head & face with a hat

Hats can keep the scalp from getting burned, and protect the face and ears. While baseball caps are, popular, they don't protect ears and necks as well as wide-brimmed hats (which are also adorable).

Protect those pretty little eyes, too

Kid eyes haven't matured to filter UV rays effectively, so the average kid takes in 3x times the UV exposure of adults! Sunglasses (the kind with UV protection, not the toy kinds) can help protect those lookers and be awfully cute at the same time.

Loose, light clothing is best

Make sure to dress the little ones in cool, comfortable clothing. Light-colored cotton is the best option, and will allow sweat to evaporate. Another great option is UV clothing, which can have up to a 50 SPF!

Limit sun exposure at peak times

On those super hot days, try to avoid outside playtime during the hottest times of the day (usually 11am-3pm). Come inside in the AC, or find a nice shaded spot to take it easy in.

Never leave kiddos in the car!

Over the last 20 years, more than 600 kids have died as a result of being left in hot cars, Even just a few minutes can be deadly, as temps rise quickly and kids are more susceptible to heatstroke. Never leave kids in the car even for a moment, and make it routine to check the backseat before walking away!

Hydrate, hydrate, hydrate

Keep those kiddos hydrated! Avoid caffeinated drinks like soda and tea, or sugary juices and sports drinks, which can actually have a diuretic affect. Water is the best for hydrating, but coconut water and even milk are good options too.

Watch for signs of heat illness

Learn the signs of heat exhaustion and heat stroke (which is super dangerous!). Be on the lookout for weakness, fainting, lack of sweat, cramping, nausea, headaches and sudden high temps...and if the symptoms are severe get emergency help ASAP

The importance of making your appointments and keeping them

The relationship between you and your Health Care professional is crucial for the success of your treatment and overall wellness. Making and Keeping appointments reflects your respect for others and shows that you value their time. Consistently attending scheduled sessions lay the groundwork for the essential, and sometimes challenging, work involved in your treatment.

If you need to cancel an appointment, please inform us as soon as possible by calling 604-465-8921. This allows us to offer your time slot to another person in need.

We must be considerate of our practitioners' schedules and their time in the community. If missed appointments become a regular issue, we will need to discuss the situation further, as we incur costs for the service even if you do not attend.

About the Trainer: Tammy Ellison

With over 20 years of experience in fitness, my journey began as a teen playing rugby and soccer, which sparked my interest in strength and conditioning coaching. As a mom of teenagers who play lacrosse, I've brought this passion into my everyday life, even volunteering as a coach for the Ridge Meadows Minor Lacrosse Association.

As a Personal Trainer, my mission goes beyond helping people lose weight or gain muscle; I am dedicated to helping others love the skin they're in and build confidence—both inside and out. I focus on empowering my clients to overcome obstacles and injuries, while fostering a healthy mind and body. Watching my clients reach their full potential is what drives me, and it motivates me to continue inspiring others to live their best life.

I specialize in:

- Strength + Conditioning
- Weight Loss
- Weight Training
- Functional Training
- Injury Prevention
- Postural Assessment
- Pre-Post Natal
- Nutritional Wellness
- Older Adult Wellness
- Sports Specific Training
- TRX
- Kettlebell
