Cold and Flu Season Reminder:

COVID-19 Guidelines

As we move through cold and flu season, COVID-19 is still present in our communities. Here are some important reminders based on current BCCDC and PHO guidelines:

Isolation is no longer legally required in BC, but if you test positive or have symptoms, it's strongly recommended you stay home until you feel well and your fever is gone without medication.

No need to re-test before returning to activities—tests can remain positive for weeks even after you're no longer infectious.

For most people, you're considered unlikely to be contagious once symptoms have improved and you've been fever-free for 24 hours.

Immunocompromised or severe cases may remain infectious longer (up to 20 days), so extra caution is advised.

If you must be around others before fully recovering, wear a mask and practice good hand hygiene.

Vaccination and boosters are strongly recommended for those over 65 or immunocompromised, as protection decreases over time.

Quick Tips

- Mild cases are usually not contagious after about 10 days from symptom onset
- Severe or immunocompromised cases may be contagious for up to 3 weeks.

Please stay home if you're unwell and help reduce the spread of all illnesses this season

While the risk of severe illness has decreased thanks to community immunity, significant risk remains for immunocompromised individuals. Let's all do our part to protect those who need it most.

If you have questions about your symptoms, contact your healthcare provider.

My name is Justin,

I have both lived experience and then spent years learning in school. My beliefs are in harm reduction, non-judgement acceptance and appreciation for the human experience. I have worked in recovery settings for years and many years of work in DTES.

I am father of four, a blended family where we each brought two of our own kids, and I love being a father.

I didn't have a father that was a good role model,

I have learned and unlearned many things along the way that helped me love being a dad.

If you ever want to talk about it come see me.

I love Music.

I have co-hosted a metal radio show for the past 8 years. I love seeing bands play live.

I love my dogs, all three of them.

The importance of making your appointments and keeping them

The relationship between you and your Health Care professional is crucial for the success of your treatment and overall wellness. Making and Keeping appointments reflects your respect for others and shows that you value their time. Consistently attending scheduled sessions lay the groundwork for the essential, and sometimes challenging, work involved in your treatment.

If you need to cancel an appointment, please inform us as soon as possible by calling 604-465-8921. This allows us to offer your time slot to another person in need.

We must be considerate of our practitioners' schedules and their time in the community. If missed appointments become a regular issue, we will need to discuss the situation further, as we incur costs for the service even if you do not attend.
