The 3-3-3 Rule

When your mind feels overwhelmed, come back to the present moment

Sometimes our thoughts move too fast, and everything starts to feel heavy or out of control.

The 3-3-3 rule is a simple way to slow things down and bring yourself back to where you are.

By using your senses, what you see, hear, and feel, you can gently guide your mind away from worry and back into the present moment.

It doesn't take long, and you can do it anywhere, quietly, at your own pace.

How it works:

See

3 Things you see

Look around and name three things you can see

(Notice colours, shapes, or small details)

Hear

3 Things you can hear

Listen for three different sounds

(Near, far, or steady sounds)

Feel

3 Things you Move or Feel

Move or notice three parts of your body

(Wiggle your fingers, roll your shoulders, feel your feet on the ground)

Why it Matters:

This grounding technique helps:

- Calm racing thoughts
- Reduce anxiety and the feeling of being overwhelmed
- Bring your focus back to the present
- Help your body feel safe and steady

Try This:

- Use it when you feel anxious, stressed, or overwhelmed
- Practice it even when you feel calm (so it becomes familiar)
- Pair it with slow breathing
- Take your time, there's no rush

Take a Moment

- What do I notice around me right now?
- How does my body feel after slowing down?

*You are here. You are safe.
Take it one moment at a time.*

When Big Feelings Show up

All feelings are okay. Some just feel bigger than others.

Sometimes feelings can feel really big, like a storm inside your body. You might feel mad, sad, worried, or overwhelmed

You're not in trouble for having big feelings. You just need a little help to move through them.

What Big Feelings Can Look Like:

Fast heartbeat

Wanting to cry or yell

Feeling shaky or restless

Wanting to be alone

Trouble focusing

What Can Help

Take a breath

Slow breath in... Slow breath out
(try this 3 times)

Look Around

Name 3 things you can see

Move your Body

Stretch, shake your hands, or go for a short walk

Talk to Someone

A parent, elder, teacher, or someone you trust

Sit somewhere quiet, hold something comforting

Try this:

- Hug something soft
- Draw how you feel
- Listen to music
- Go outside for fresh air

Take a Moment

- What am I feeling right now?
- What do I need?
